CAMP PHILOSOPHY

The Development Camp focuses on introducing young players to the individual fundamentals required to play the game of basketball. The camp allows players an opportunity to work on their skills in non-competitive drills as well as game situations. Players will be shown a number of drills that they will be able to practice on their own.

The development camp is run on baskets at both the eight and ten-foot level to ensure all players are able to learn proper shooting technique.

The Super Camp is for more advanced players (usually grade 7 and 8), or players recommended by their coach. Individual work on both offensive and defensive skills will be emphasized daily.
